

Here are some ideas of activities you could try at home linked to the work we are doing about 'Animals around the world' this half term. Perhaps choose a different activity to have a go at each week. We would love to know how you get on. You can then either send the homework in to school or you could send us photographs instead and we can share them on the large interactive board for the other children to see. You can send them to us using the following emails :-

As we are looking at numbers to 20 this half term, have a practise writing the numbers between 11 and 20.

Cut up the number cards attached and have a go at putting them back in the right order. Can you put them in order going backwards, so starting at 20?

Find out about one of the animals that live in the Arctic through books or the internet. Draw or print out a picture of the animal and write interesting facts you have found out about them.

Choose 3 animals that live in Africa and draw a picture in size order, largest to the smallest.

Make a snake. It could be a painting, sock puppet or be made from junk modelling materials.

Read an animal story with a grown up. Talk about the setting. Was it set in this country? You could have a look on a globe or in an atlas and find the country it was set in.

Make a mask of your favourite animal.
